

Call for Papers
JADE Annual Conference on Economic Development
April 9th - April 10th, 2022

The fourth Japanese Association for Development Economics (JADE) annual conference will be held online. We welcome all papers that investigate topics in economic development. We encourage submissions from young scholars.

Paper Submissions

- Submit your paper online by 24:00 Japan Standard Time (JST) UTC+9 on February 7, 2022 by visiting the JADE call for papers webpage.
- Only full drafts of papers will be considered.
- Include the title, authors, and abstract (200 words max) of your paper, and your name, title, affiliation, and email address in your email. If you are a graduate student, please indicate so.
- Attach your paper in PDF format. Ensure that all fonts, symbols, and equations appear the way they were originally typed.
- The final and completed version of all accepted papers must be received by March 31, 2022.
- A presenter of an accepted paper needs to be a JADE member. If you are not a JADE member, you are expected to join JADE, either as a full member or student member, by March 31, 2022. To join JADE, please activate your membership here.
- Contact & questions: conference@jade.gr.jp

Hayami Award

- The second Hayami Award will be announced at the conference.
- The selection of the Hayami Award is based on the final version of papers presented by an author who is eligible for the Hayami Award at the conference.
- Indicate if you are eligible for the Hayami Award when you submit your paper.

Fuwa Award

- The first Fuwa Award will be announced at the conference.
- The selection of the Fuwa Award is not related to papers submitted for the conference.
